Applicant is required to keep the examiner informed of parallel prosecution overseas. At minimum copies in English of any allowed claims (there appear to be some in DE 10312825 and CA 2518389) are required in response to this action as well as full disclosure of the prosecution (rejections etc) in the European patent office of EP 1606556. Any other pertinent materials from these overseas prosecutions pursuant to applicant's duty of disclosure (see MPEP 2001.06(a)) are also required. In addition to the above, are there additional overseas applications that the examiner should be aware of?

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species of "specific size" are as follows:

First species wherein "specific size" is based on the ratio between opening times of the flow valve and a predetermined time (see page 4, line 31-page 5, line 5, new claims 4 and 12), and Second species wherein "specific size" is based on a "desired value deviation" (see page 5, lines 14-20, new claims 5 and 13-15).

In addition the following species of "setting" have been disclosed:

First species of "setting" wherein the "setting" is changed by a change in the amplification of the controller (original claim 6 and new claims 6 and 16),

Second species of "setting" wherein the "setting" is changed by a change in the pressure difference over the heat exchanger (original claim 7 and new claims 7 and 17),

Third species of "setting" wherein the "setting" is changed by a change in the maximum opening width of the valve is changed (original claim 8 and new claims 8 and 18) and

Fourth species of "setting" wherein the "setting" is changed by a change in the opening times of the valve (original claims 9 and 10 and new claims 9-10 and 19-20).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. A proper election requires an election of one species of "specific size" and one species of "setting" and the two elections must be consistent with one another (i.e. meet the 35 USC 112, enablement and description requirements).

The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowed generic claim. Currently, the following claim(s) appear to be generic: claims 1-3 and 11.

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner: see the parentheticals in the above species identifications.

Note that claims 1-3 (and 11) have all been found to have been anticipated by the EPO as set forth in the PCT/ISA/210 form dated 23/06/2004.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention or species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions have unity of invention (37 CFR 1.475(a)), applicant must provide reasons in support thereof. Applicant may submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. Where such evidence or admission is provided by applicant, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
